

The Australian Values Test

This simple and easy to use brochure is the official study guide for the former Minister for Citizenship and Multicultural Affairs Alan Tudge's new Australian Values Test for permanent visa applicants.

Passing the Australian Values Test also ensures all new Australian permanent residents will integrate into Australian society, uphold and personify Australian values and prevent segregation.

How to use this guide

The brochure is divided into two sections:

1. Australian values
2. Un-Australian values

Each sections provides examples of Australian and Un-Australian values. Simply memorise these values in order to pass the Australian Values test and integrate them into your daily life to help settle into Australian society.

Study guide for the Australian Values Test

Australian values

Deterring people smugglers by imprisoning children in island prisons.

Criminalising racial groups in Melbourne for the sole purpose of winning an election.

Celebrating Australian Day on the anniversary of colonisation and the genocide of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

Not letting a Prime Minister finish their term.

Still having an average national gender pay gap of 14.6%.<sup>1</sup>

Celebrating excessive drinking as a part of Australia's culture and then wondering why we have a drinking problem.

Racism, a defining and sacred Australian value.

Australian values continued

Resisting green energy because coal is a major export.

Paying greater attention to the cost of the NBN than on the fact that one woman a week is killed from domestic violence.<sup>2</sup>

Postal plebiscites.

Refusing to constitutionally recognise the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders as the sovereign owners of the land.

Creating the Referendum Council which facilitated the first process to ask Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people to collectively make recommendations for constitutional change and then rejecting their recommendations.

The unspoken agreement between all Australians to trick tourists of the existence of drop bears.

Un-Australian values

Pro bono immigration lawyers representing asylum seekers.

It's unAustralian, It's gone on for too long .... and its ripping the system off.<sup>3</sup>

Children not standing for the national anthem.

Cheating in cricket.
